This is a comprehensive landscape architectural site plan for a resort or park. The central focus is a large building complex, likely a lodge or restaurant, featuring a prominent wooden pergola and an adjacent swimming pool. The building is surrounded by meticulously designed landscaping, including manicured lawns, ornate garden beds, and several small decorative ponds. A network of paved pathways and roads provides access throughout the site, connecting various parking areas located at different points around the perimeter. The plan is densely populated with symbols representing different types of vegetation, such as trees, shrubs, and groundcover, creating a lush and inviting environment. Other notable features include a central circular pond, multiple staircases leading between levels, and various outdoor seating or gathering spaces. The overall design emphasizes a harmonious blend of built structures and naturalistic landscaping.
